Do I need a NumXL license to develop with the NumXL SDK? Can I request a free trial?

Yes, you'll need a valid NumXL license for each developer. For evaluation purposes, you can request a free 14-day trial license from our support staff at support@numxl.com.

We recommend installing the NumXL add-in on the developer station. So that the developer can share the license key and have the ability to test the NumXL functions from Excel for comparison.
